“ I am so saddened to learn of the loss of your father. I am a supervisor at the Board of Elections, and your father donated countless hours to our cause. I could always rely on him when needed, and he never had a bad word to say. I know the staff of Poll Workers at Kennard School where he worked on Election Day will be at a loss without him. Please accept my sympathy, and I will keep you all in my prayers.

“ I am saddened by the lost of Dalton. I knew him through softball and always enjoyed talking to him. He was a real gentleman, a kind man, and a terrific player. So sorry to learn of his passing. I'll miss him come spring.

“ Dalton's life was one of service to others. He spent several years looking after his ailing brother until he died. He did many bike rides on a tandem with a blind friend. His life was full of sacrifices for others. He was also an interesting friend. My partner and I spent a pleasant week cycling in Door County, Wisconsin with him and his lady friend this last fall. He certainly will be missed by many. Alan Ranford.

“ I remember meeting Dalton years ago on one of the first DNR Katy trail rides. He was on a tandem with his friend who was blind and he would describe the scenery to his friend as they rode. He was a great guy that will be missed by all. Joan Fromme

“ Dalton was a quiet and dignified man who lived his values and stood up for the rights of all. He was shy and unassuming, but had a brilliant smile and a twinkle in his eye. I admired him and will not forget his warmth and kindness. I am a better person for knowing him. You will be missed Dalton! Kathy Kammien

“ Dalton the Teacher: He and Deede were on a bike ride. Deede had a flat. Dalton would not help her because he wanted her to learn how. He watched her change the flat. Then she had two more flats on that ride. He watched her change both flats. By the time Dalton and Deede finished that ride, Deede really knew how to change a bicycle flat.

In many ways he was helpful. When my husband died and I needed someone to help me carry Dick's framed pictures in for display to Ethical Society, I asked Dalton by phone to help me carry. When I arrived at Ethical, he was standing there waiting to help. He was a friend I knew I could depend on. Billie Teneau

“ I will miss Dalton and remember him as a very generous man, generous with his time and energy. We shared lunch and walks occasionally, and I always enjoyed hearing about his many volunteer projects: working with high school students on science projects, walking dogs at the Humane Society, visiting hospice patients, and acting as an advocate for children in the court system, among other projects. I loved hearing about his bicycling trips, long and short, as well. When I hear the expression, "a good man,"

Dalton always comes to mind. He will be remembered and missed by many. Ann Mandelstamm, St. Louis.
