“ From my Father, and one of Drew's best friends; Rick Duncan - we offer our deepest sympathies to the Triulzi family.

Drew was also my "un-official" Godfather, and at one time in 1993 helped me out of some serious danger, I credit him for saving my life. Thank you sincerely for that, Drew.

I will always remember your laugh, and your vibrance for life. You definitely did Live your Life on your terms - the only way you could.

Rest in Peace, Drew. Enjoy the Ride up there... we'll see you again someday.

“ Anthony and I would like to share our condolences on the passing of Drew to Rob, Judi and their children. Remembering Drew brought back lots of stories and memories from so many years ago. He was always on the go..never a dull moment! I personally remember him always on a motorcycle. Then there were the times that his motorcycle landed him in the hospital multiple times! But when you would go visit him, he always had a smile on his face and him talking about when he would get out and get back to riding again. I always felt sorry for Uncle Andy and Aunt Dottie. But that was Drew and how he chose to live. He did have a zest for life. Now I'm sure he is back together with his parents. I can only imagine what that reunion was like! Lol Until we all meet again, love you Drew.
