“ I miss you dearly mom it's been a year since your passing and to this day i still have that image of you engraved in my head. It's the last thing i want to remember of you but unfortunately it's what you've left me with. At first i was so angry at you i just didn't understand how you could do such a thing to me and karson and the people who love you. You tried your hardest to take me back and when you finally did you left me, alone. You were the last one i had. I remember when dad passed you told me you would never leave my side and would always be there for me, well where are you now? There is nothing to compare losing a mother to you were my rock and now i have to do everything alone. I won't have my parents at my graduation or my wedding or be able to see you guys on holidays. When dad died i told myself at least i have you mom as long as i have you i'll be alright. Now im learning how to be okay without you here by my side and it's not fair. I can't hug you when i'm sad or do your makeup for you or dance and listen to music in the car. I can't even go on a road trip without thinking of you because that was our thing. I'm still so angry but most of all i miss you so very much i just want to talk to you and ask about your day laugh about stupid things. I miss when you would make fun of me for looking homeless or being silly. I miss people watching with you, i miss sitting on the porch in the morning and at night talking about deep shit. I miss our little family i miss life before you left me. I love you and i dont think this is something i will ever overcome. It's something i will struggle with till the day i die and we're reunited again, if that's even how it works. I'll never see you again and that is the hardest thing i have ever had to admit. I love you mom hope your resting easy wherever you are.

“ I am so sorry to hear of your passing. I know we didn't have a chance to know each other really well but you were such a star in the pin up community. You had a look that made people take notice and that infectious smile. I think the world lost a bright star way to soon. Hopefully you are having new adventures in heaven, Rest in peace. ”

“Elaine, I’m not taking about you. I’m going to talk to you. I’m heartbroken over you leaving me here on this Earth. I hate not being able to reach out to you. I feel so much guilt with stuff I could have done differently to still have you here. Karson seems to be okay but he misses you. You know he has always shown little emotion & Im not sure he’s going to be okay without you here either. Me and Jess are going to do our best with him. Here’s the real sad part, I don’t think Autumn & him are going to see much of each other after we lay you to rest Friday. That breaks my heart.

I have felt such a physical heart break everyday since I found out you are no longer w us physically. I feel my mind crying & my eyes heavy w tears but sometimes no tears flow out. I haven’t smiled as much as we used to together & I probably never will. Elaine, I love you so much. You are always going to have the most special place in my heart. I’m so proud of who you were while you were here. You made such a difference in so many people’s lives. A lot of people did their first trips w you. I know I did & when we were in that hot air balloon above Las Vegas we both shared such an amazing moment with each other. I laughed with you, I hugged you. I’ve always been so inspired by your strength. You went a long ways & overcame so many different obstacles in your life. You inspired many women. Still yet to this day, those memories will always live on. You deserve the peace that you have now. Im happy that you are no longer struggling. Im proud that you are with Timmy. I keep thinking, I wonder if you met my Dad finally? You know I told you so much about him. His birthday is 3 days after you left us physically.

I look at the seat beside me a lot & see your beautiful blues eyes looking into mine, letting me know you’re okay. I have such a vivid imagination. I’ll never forget your smile, your laugh, your voice, your hugs, or your support. I hate that I don’t have your support anymore & there is no one to take your place. I will forever be angry at the reasoning of why you are no longer here physically. I still feel that your purpose is not done & I am upset that you aren’t here to finish it. Me n Jess are doing our best but there’s so many more ppl that are struggling. I know at the end you was so sad & I pray that you’re not sad anymore. We love you Elaine, I love you with all of my heart. We shared such a special bond & you always be my special friend. I sing to you, I scream for you. I cry for you & I am heart broken too. Im talking in circles but just know Im so sad wo you. May you forever be at peace. ❤️❤️👉🙄😞👉😞🙏

“ I have known Elaine through my daughters as the grew up at Bloomfield Schlool. I know of her many struggles as all yong girls & women do. I always liked and grew to have a very good relationship with Elaine. She kept in touch with me and I was aware of all her accomplishments. She had a daughter, Autumn, a son Carson, that is her main accomplishments. She had a lot of education that is too numerous to mention, loved to travel! Elaine was a very interesting person to talk to and be around, she will be missed by all and I hope she is at peace, Greta Martin

“ Elaine was a wonderful person. She was an awesome mother and someone who would help anyone in need. She had two children that she loved with all her heart and soul. She was beautiful, smart and very artistic. We will love and miss her forever but we know she's in heaven now watching over her children like she did here while she was on earth. She was truly a beautiful soul that will never be forgotten and always in our hearts.
