

John "Craig" Wolff

November 10, 1959 - November 6, 2020

Craig, age 60, was a lifelong resident of Maplewood, MO and an MRH graduate of 1978. He spent most of his life working as a Machinist while being an avid fan of the Cardinals and Nascar. To his friends, he was known as, "The Wolff Man," and always knew how to have a good time.

He is preceded in death by his parents, Robert and Joyce Wolff and his siblings, Robert J. Wolff and Karen (Samuel) Bishop.

Nephew to Frances (Lauritson) Nelson. Cherished uncle to Sarah Bishop (Matt Lamping), Ellen Bishop (Corwyn Clark) and Mark Bishop (Stephanie Reilly).

Great uncle to Riley Joyce and Samuel James Bishop, and Bryson Clark.

Dear cousin and friend to many.

Memorials can be made to the American Cancer Society in Craig's honor.
Private interment at Valhalla Cemetery.

“ Craig was one of my cousins.
Every Easter we would load up our car in Wisconsin and head down to St. Louis.
We stayed with Joy, bob, Karen and Craig, so we got to see them first. So Exciting!
Craig was always kind and kept an eye on us if we ran around the neighborhood at night. I think it was fun for him to be in charge of the little cousins who visited being the littlest in his family, to Bob and Karen. I'm grateful that we all got to grow up together and so grateful he can Rest In Peace with his family. End of an era! R.I. P.
