“ My nursing school friend. We survived Mrs. Barnes together! She's laughing right now thinking about that. I don't think I would have made it through school without her. We didn't talk often after I moved from St. Louis, but she was always in my heart. She will be missed. Rest easy my friend.

“ My grandmother was the strongest woman I know as she battled many obstacles that tried to cross her path. She had lost that battle yesterday but has risen up to be taken to the heavens to start another battle... One to protect her family so that we can all join her up in heaven once again! We all come together to morn the loss but to show the love we have between us all. Our times are short and we should cherish every moment we have the chance to with our loved ones. Grandma Ruby you will be missed! I love you so very much!
