“ Miss Shirley, what a character. Also, how courageous. To stay true to herself no matter what the situation or the group. How I loved going to the city to her shop to get my hair done. When I was 17, I was allowed to take the bus and go on my own. My mom told me to "have Shirley cut your ends". When I got there I said in a very happy and sure voice "Mama said you can cut my hair". She did, and I loved it. Until my family came to pick me up. My mom's reaction was not the best. 😞 I will always remember Shirley for her candid honesty, however it was delivered. Also for her story telling. You will always be remembered and loved in our hearts. 'Fly high, RIP.

“ To My Granny: I thank God that I was able to be there for some of your last moments to hold your hand when it was a bit much in that hospital room. That is a blessing for me. I have so many memories of you. The best part of you I will carry with me forever. I will tell my children, your great grand children about the best storyteller in our family. Every time you told a family story it was so engaging and animated. It's funny how people make the comparison between you and the physical comedy of Richard Pryor. There were probably several missed callings in your life. But, thank God we as your family didn't miss any of them. We were there for the stories, the songs, the laughs, and for us, you will truly be missed. Love you Granny. Kiss Carrie and Grandma on the jaw for me. Tell Pookie, Tameka, and Punchie, I love and miss them. And give my best friend Clisha a hug for me. Till we see each other again.

“ 40 years ago, I was preparing for my 5 month old daughters christening, so I went to Shirley's beauty shop to get my hair dyed. As we went thru all the motion getting my hair started, Shirley says to me, dig down in chair with lower part of my body like I am getting some, (lol) huh I didn't bit mo know what she was talking bout at 25. Saying that to say Shirley said it was like it was not ever, ever biting her tongue. I truly feel sad that she is gone. Cynthia “ Shirley, Shirley...I have such fond memories of you. Like when I followed you,Robin and Eva down to Hermitage, ARK. one summer when I was suppose to be returning back to Chicago from a summer vacation in St. Louis. But it enabled me to meet my Great-Grandparents. I remember fondly when you were the Leader of a dance troupe called the "Madison Flashers", and how I loved to see you, Vera and Jennie shimmy and shake, what joy. I will dearly miss your prompt Birthday cards in my mailbox for at least the last 50 years, and an always beautiful Kwanzaa card for at least the past 40 years :-). there will now not only be an empty space in the mailbox twice a years going forward, but never an empty place in my heart, where you will always reside.
